

Oeno Gallery Outdoor Sculpture Garden FAQ

Who is eligible to submit artwork?

Any professional sculptor is welcome to apply.

How are artists selected?

A selection committee is formed to assess proposals and projects. Consideration is given to the sculptor's exhibition history, along with the artwork's originality, durability, technical execution, and retail potential. The work must also meet the Gallery's safety and logistic requirements. Approximately 20-30 works will be selected each year. The Gallery has a modern and contemporary focus and represents professional artists who have achieved considerable recognition. Selected works will fit into this mandate.

What materials and sizes are acceptable for consideration?

There are no limitations on choice of materials or sizes. However, works must be of sufficient scale to suit the acreage, be structurally sound and able to handle weather conditions of all types and seasons. The Sculpture Garden does not supply power, independent solar power will have to be designed for work requiring electricity.

Safety

Sculptures are required to be safely exhibited in a public and unsupervised environment, visited year-round by individuals of all ages. Sculptures must be securely installed due to high winds and potentially severe winter weather.

Exhibition options

The site features various exhibition areas: the exterior walls and immediate surroundings of the Gallery, a large hill, a wild meadow, groves, perennial gardens, a pond, walking paths and a number of intimate sitting areas. Some sculpture pads, both concrete and stone, are available. In addition to the Garden, there are sites available by the Vineyard, the Winery and the Inn. The pond offers some interesting options that we hope artists may utilize.

Is the Gallery buying the work from the artist to put on display?

No. Any artwork selected for the Sculpture Garden will be on consignment for a minimum of one year. All works must be original (or in a limited edition signed series) and available for sale to our residential and commercial clients.

What is Oeno's commission structure?

Depending on the cost to fabricate the sculpture(s), commissions range from 50/50 to 70/30 (Artist/Gallery).

Transport and installation?

Artists are responsible for transporting and installing their work in the Sculpture Garden. Costs will be built into the retail price. Once sold, the Gallery is responsible for arranging transport of the work to the client's location. If not sold, the artist is responsible for removing the work from the Sculpture Garden after one year. Please feel free to discuss individual plans with the Gallery.

Term of exhibition

The work must be available for exhibition for a minimum of one year. The Gallery may ask to extend the display for a longer period of time.

Is there an artist's fee for exhibiting in the Garden?

No, yet the artist is responsible for all transportation, installation and removal expenses in the Garden. Installation of all sculpture is projected for mid-May. The Gallery and the Winery are responsible for grounds maintenance costs.
